Azizi the doll
Lawrence A. Konjuro
English
This is Azizi.
Azizi is my doll.
I like Azizi because he always smiles.
After I wake up I wash my face.
Then I look for Azizi.
When I find Azizi I brush his hair.
When I eat breakfast I feed Azizi.
When I eat sweets I give one to Azizi.
But Azizi never eats his sweet.
I wonder why!
I walk around the compound picking flowers.
I give a flower to Azizi. But he never says, “Thank you.”
I wash Azizi clean before my mother bathes me.
I dress Azizi in red because I love the colour red.
When I go to sleep, I lay Azizi beside me.
Azizi the doll
Writer: Lawrence A. Konjuro
Illustration: Natalie Propa
Language: English

This story was developed at a workshop held at Kenyatta University, with Kenyatta University students, run by Dr Adelheid Bwire. This book is published in memory of student teacher Lawrence A Konjuro.

© African Storybook Initiative, 2015

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC-BY) Version 3.0 Unported Licence

Disclaimer: You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute or credit the original author/s and illustrator/s.