Tell It Again! Flip Book Introduction

This Tell It Again! Flip Book contains images that accompany the Tell It Again! Read-Aloud Anthology for Presidents and American Symbols. The images are in sequential order. Each image is identified by its lesson number, read-aloud letter (A or B), and the number of the image within the particular read-aloud. For example, the first image in Read-Aloud 1A is numbered 1A-1. Once you have worked your way through the book to the last page, you will flip the entire book over to view the second half of the images.

Depending on your classroom configuration, you may need to have students sit closer to the flip book in order to see the images clearly.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

These materials are the result of the work, advice, and encouragement of numerous individuals over many years. Some of those singled out here already know the depth of our gratitude; others may be surprised to find themselves thanked publicly for help they gave quietly and generously for the sake of the enterprise alone. To help named and unnamed we are deeply grateful.

CONTRIBUTORS TO EARLIER VERSIONS OF THESE MATERIALS

We would like to extend special recognition to Program Directors Matthew Davis and Suzanne Wright who were instrumental to the early development of this program.

SCHOOLS

We are truly grateful to the teachers, students, and administration of the following schools for their willingness to field test these materials and for their invaluable advice: Capital Science Challenge Foundation Academy (RI), Community Academy/Public Charter School, Lake Lawn Classical Academy, Leopardo Elementary School, New Holland Core Knowledge Academy, Paramount School of Excellence, Pioneer Challenge Foundation Academy, New York City (PS 288 The Career School, PS 506 (Wilton School), PS 506 (Dana School), PS 962, PS 1026 (Joseph L. Costello), PS 1040 (The Bay Water), PS 2174 (Michael Friedman), PS 2205 (Jordon B. Johnson School), PS 3001 (Genevieve Academy, Sequoia Elementary School, South Shore Charter Public School, Sputnik Charter School, Steel Elementary School, Thomas Jefferson Classical Academy, Three Domes Elementary West Manor Elementary.

And a special thanks to the CBLA Pilot Coordination Arshad Henderson, Yamir Lugo-Hernandez, and Susan Smith, whose suggestions and day-to-day support to teachers using these materials in their classrooms was critical.

Credits

Every effort has been taken to trace and acknowledge copyrights. The editors tend their apologies for any accidental infringement where copyright has proved untraceable. They would be pleased to insert the appropriate acknowledgment in any subsequent edition of this publication. Trademarks and trade names are shown in this publication for illustrative purposes only and are the property of their respective owners. The references to trademarks and trade names given herein do not affect their validity.

All photographs are used under license from Shutterstock, Inc. unless otherwise noted.
In CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.
The unanimous Declaration of the united States of America.

When in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the political Bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the Causes which impel them to the Separation.

We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. — Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient Causes; and accordingly all剥离 in which the People are déprived of the Right of Amending their Governmental Form, or of having Remedies for Grievances by the legitimate Way of peaceful Assemblies and Elections of Representatives of the People is to be regarded a Presumption that Elections alone will free and preserve the People from Tyranny. — But when a long Train of abuses and usurpations, contrived in peace, begin to operate upon the States in ruinous Manner; it is their Right, it is their Duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which compels them to resist the un rightful Attempts of the British Monarch to subjugate these People. — For to this People, as to the People of other ancient and happy Nations, Government derives its just Power from the Consent of the Governed; and is founded in the innate Principle of human Equality. — That when Men are, or shall become, dissatisfied with their Government, it is their Right, it is their Duty, to change their Government, and to institute one that will better secure their Welfare and Happiness. — Prudence may suggest a desire to adopt such means as shall be most expedient in a given case; but it is the Right of the People, in any case, to institute a Government, and to provide for their Safety and Happiness.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, do, on this Day, publish and declare, That these United States are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent States; that their most religious, and most sacred Duties are owed only to the great Creator of the universe; that it is their right and duty to support and maintain the Institutions of religion, and the separate, solemn and spiritual ceremonies attendant thereon, for the moral and spiritual well-being of society, and of every individual therein; that these principles are in nowise inconsistent with the true spirit of the Christian religion; that the Christian religion, and the institutions for religious worship and instruction established thereon, are the basis of the liberty and happiness of man; and that it is the duty of all free Governments to protect and maintain, in their pursuits of religion and morality, the rights, privileges, and immunities of conscience, in all such respects as shall be consistent with the general welfare and peace of society; and that no power, or agency, of Government, religious or civil, ought to be so exercised as to restrain the right of conscience, or impair the religious privilege of any individual or body of individuals, or to violate the rights and liberties of any individual or body of individuals, in respect of the free exercise of their religion.

Pursuant to the above Declaration, and to effect the object thereunto directed, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honors.
Tell It Again! Multiple Meaning Word Posters

The poster(s) in this Tell It Again! Flip Book may be cut out and displayed on the classroom wall for the duration of the domain.
The is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to comple families parallel’d in the most barbarous age, and totally overturning the Head of civilized nations.

The country, taking the accounts of their friends and Britannia, into fullness by them, inhabitants few fountains, the reformed Indian savages, whose known sub of warfare, in unmitiate have determined for trades in the most humble terms. These events Britannia have been answered, as is usual to be the order of a few people.

On these, we have nothing in all these, to our British...

We have remedied them the circumstances of our emigration, and feel by the ties of our common-kind, to dearrow these infractions, which would inevitably incline unanimity. We must, therefore, acquire in the majority, which denominates our constitu...

Therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in the Sense of the People, and by authority of the good People, do, in the Name and by authority of the good People of these States, solemnly publish States; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all politicians as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to buy, or sell, conclude Peace, or Treaty, etc. States may of right do.

And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm hand our sacred Honor.

By the Members of the Convention of...
Line (Poster 1M)

1. a group of people that are waiting to move forward (noun)
2. a long mark (noun)
3. a row of words across a page, particularly in a poem (noun)
Turn  (Poster 2M)

1. a chance to do or use something before or after other people  (noun)
2. a place where a road/path changes direction  (noun)
3. to move in a different direction  (verb)
Head (Poster 3M)

1. a leader of a group of people or organization (noun)
2. the part of the body containing the brain and face (noun)
3. to go in a specific direction (verb)

Presidents | Multiple Meaning Word Poster 3 of 4
\[
\begin{array}{c}
\frac{2}{4} + 2 \\
\checkmark
\end{array}
\]
Right (Poster 4M)

1. good, fair, and just (adjective)
2. correct (adjective)
3. located on the side of your body that is away from your heart (noun)